27,386 followers 135 posts analysed cocktails/drinks is #1 Monday best day

Executive Summary

Treehouse Ghana has a growing Instagram presence with 27,386 followers. This report analyses 135 posts and short videos published over the past 18 months. Five findings stand out:

1. Short videos attract 121% more engagement than static posts on average. Investing in more video content is the highest-impact format change available.
2. Cocktails, events, and ambience content are consistently your strongest-performing categories yet the majority of posts are food-focused.
3. Monday is your best day to post. Posts published on this day attract the most engagement on average.
4. Audience comments reveal genuine commercial intent location questions, event enquiries and booking requests are present but often go unanswered. Responding within 30 minutes turns a comment into a customer.
5. Switching to an improved content mix could increase 12-week engagement by 30.5%; a full video-first approach could add 77.2%.

What Content Performs Best

The chart below ranks each content type by average engagement score. A higher score means more likes, comments and video plays combined.

Short Videos vs Feed Posts

Short videos attract on average 121% more engagement than static feed posts. They also reach people who do not yet follow Treehouse Ghana through Instagram's discovery algorithm. A 15–30 second video of a dish, cocktail or the venue atmosphere is enough to outperform most images.

How to Read This Report

All figures are based on public Instagram data only. Private metrics reach, impressions, saves, profile visits, link clicks are not included and remain visible only in your native Instagram Insights dashboard. The engagement score used throughout is: $likes + (comments \times 5) + (video\ plays \div 100)$. A higher score indicates a post attracted more visible audience interaction.
